Russell Latino III

Wells Marble and Hurst

Russell Latino enjoys waxing philosophically on most any subject, be it religion, politics or the state of the economy. Although a respected young attorney for Ridgeland law firm

Wells Marble & Hurst, the Louisiana native also is a published writer and talk radio commentator. Latino's guest editorials have appeared in the newspapers across the state, and he's a frequent contributor to talk-radio show. Latino graduated cum laude from the University of Mississippi Law School in 2006. While a law school student, he also worked in student ministry on the staff of First Baptist Church in Oxford. In 2011, Latino was recognized by the Mississippi Business Journal as one of the "Top 50 Leaders in Law." An attorney with Wells Marble since 2006, his fields of practice include business litigation, constitutional law and government relations. A rabid Ole Miss Rebels fan, Latino enjoys reading and traveling in his leisure time.
